Police Wait On Lab Reports About Beaver Creek Death

The Crawford County Sheriff Department are waiting for lab reports before releasing more information about the death of a 37-year-old Beaver Creek man. The body was found last Thursday morning in his home by relatives. An autopsy was performed last week but the sheriff department said they could not release the man's name or details surrounding the death until information is obtained from the lab reports.

Halloween Safety Reminder

The City of Grayling Police Department would like to bring to everyone's attention that Halloween falls on Wednesday this year. The Police Department would like to recommend that this year's Trick-or-Treating be done between the hours of 6:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m., people driving in the Grayling area are asked to be exceptionally observant for the young "Goblins" during this time also.

A friendly reminder to parents and young goblins participating in Halloween activities would be:

1. Masks or material obstructing vision should be removed when crossing or being in traffic areas.
2. All treats should be taken home for inspection before they are eaten.
3. Costumes should be non-flammable materials, light in color for good visibility.

Sheriff Gives Trick-or-Treat Halloween Safety Tips

Some of the gremlins that come out at Halloween are very real, warns Crawford County Sheriff White.

"These are the people who have no fun in their hearts and seek to discourage or injure children who come to their homes for trick-or-treat night," Sheriff White explains.

Parents are cautioned to be extra aware of their children's safety during the Halloween season, especially with so many activities taking place after dark. The Crawford County Sheriff's Department offers these safety thoughts:

— Parents should escort small children to homes in the neighborhood, visiting only people they know.

— For older children, it is a good idea to put safety reflecting tape on their costumes, to make them easier to see at night by

Grayling Lotto Terminal Still Months Away

By Jon Thompson

Although Grayling looks to be in line for receiving a Lotto terminal, installation of the lottery machine probably won't be for four to five months.

"We're recommending Grayling be moved up next in line for evaluations for the Lotto terminal," said Richard Northcut, lottery regional manager at the Grayling office.

"We're evaluating three other areas right now and would like to get to Grayling in the next couple of months," Northcut said.

Currently in his 24-county region from Iosco to Mason counties in the south to the Mackinac Bridge in the north, 15 counties do not have Lotto terminals including Crawford County.

There are only ten terminals in the 24-county area including one at Gaylord and one at Houghton Lake where many Crawford County residents have been buying their chance to take a flying leap into the land of millionaires.

"We've been receiving some flak at the office because we have a regional Lottery office in Grayling but no Lotto terminal," he said.

"I'm sure after the evaluations we'll find Grayling can support a terminal."

During evaluations, lottery agents spend time at businesses who have applied for the terminal. Northcut said one of the most important things the state looks at is the capability for selling tickets at the locations. He said the state wants good sales and the agent needs to sell enough so they are making money.

The terminal is installed at no cost to the business and the business receives six percent commission on every ticket he sells. There are no more bonuses to stores for selling winning tickets.

Northcut said the state is still taking applicants for agents in the Grayling area.

Once the evaluations are completed, the process for approving the terminal still takes two to three months as it moves through the lottery chain of command.

"It's a fair system," Northcut said.

The lottery terminal can handle the Lotto game plus the card game and the three and four digit daily games. The instant ticket games do not require a terminal.

The Lotto game, featuring a guaranteed jackpot of $1 million can also be played by mail. Several Grayling businesses are offering the subscription brochures.

State Proposal C Means Controversy

Ruin the state's comeback or slay the bureaucratic dragon - take your pick on Proposal C.

If it passes, Proposal C will without question affect the finances of state and local government and their ability to set taxes or fees.

If approved on Nov. 6th, Proposal C will require elections to be held within 90 days wherever taxes have been increased since Dec. 31, 1981, by state and local government. If the elections aren't held or the voters reject the increase, then taxes revert to 1981 levels. Any fees increased since 1981 must also be put before voters or approved by a 4/5 of the appropriate legislative body.

If C passes, in the future all tax increases will be voted on by the public and all fees will be either voted on by the public or must be approved by 4/5 of the appropriate legislative body.

On the state level, these taxes would be affected:

★ INCOME TAX — The state income tax is currently 5.35 percent. Proposal C would roll it back to 4.6 percent unless voters approved the hike. The income tax is scheduled to fall back to the 4.6 percent level in 1987.

★ CIGARETTE TAX — A 10-cent-per-pack tax hike passed in 1982 would be knocked off unless voters approved the increase.

★ GASOLINE TAX — A 4-cent-per-gallon increase passed in 1982 would be knocked off unless voters approved the hike.

★ SALES TAX ON NEW CARS — Proposal C could mean a return to system in which the price of a trade-in was deducted from the cost of a new car when sales tax is determined.

★ MOTOR VEHICLE REGISTRATION — Proposal C could mean a return to the old system of a weight tax instead of a .5 percent value tax on the vehicle's base price.

The state Department of Management and Budget says the state will lose about $77 million in revenues if the cigarette tax is taken away, $97 million on the gasoline tax, $89 million on the car sales tax, and $74.2 million on vehicle registration.

Opponents of C claim passage will mean 20,000 lost jobs for state police, K to 12 teachers, and others throughout the state and $2.3 billion lost in state revenues.

Backers of the proposal claim the state will have a surplus of $550 million after this year to cushion any revenue loss. They also say any necessary taxes or fees can be approved by the voters or 4/5 of the legislative body. This is the control over tax dollars they say is a constitutional right.

Opponents say the public really doesn't want to vote on building permit fees, and the number of tax increase elections would overwhelm the voter.

Nov. 6th = Opportunity Day

On Nov. 6th, Michigan voters will have the opportunity to make decisions on three statewide ballot proposals. The three proposed constitutional amendments deal with administrative and taxation issues.

Voters are making these choices because Michigan's constitution provides citizens with direct voice, through popular vote, in amending the state's constitution. Issues can be placed on the ballot by the legislature (such as Proposals A and B) with two-thirds approval of each house and by citizen petition (such as Proposal C). In 1984, 304,001 valid signatures were required to place the proposal on the ballot.

The information on the proposals appearing in today's Avalanche was taken from a Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service election fact sheet, and articles in the Bay City Times, Detroit News, and Detroit Free Press. Next week, the Avalanche will look at local candidates, county and township proposals, and how Proposal C could affect Crawford County.

Proposal A Deals With Administrative Rules

Commonly referred to as the state's most obscure ballot proposal this fall, Proposal A still is in the middle of some arguments.

The proposal, if adopted, would make constitutional the current practice of using a joint legislative committee to approve or disapprove administrative rules.

In some other states, the legislature writes general laws and the administrative agencies, such as the Department of Natural Resources or the Department of Corrections, is asked to draft specific rules to enforce the law. This can allow the people enforcing the laws a say in the matter and let the legislature pass laws without fighting over every detail.

In Michigan, the legislature retains a big role in the making of rules for state laws through the joint committee which must approve or disapprove every new rule issued by a state agency.

Backers of the proposal says this ensures the elected officials who made the laws have the final say on how the law is applied.

For example, the Michigan 10-man Joint Committee on Administrative Rules recently completed an 18-month study of 1,900 rules in the departments of Commerce, Labor, Natural Resources and Public Health and changed or dropped 1,600 of the rules.

Critics of the proposal say it gives five state senators and five representatives the power to change the intent of both

Proposal B Calls for Protection Of State Recreation Land Fund

Proposal B, on the surface, appears to be the easiest state proposal for voters to understand.

It calls for creating a new land trust fund to purchase and preserve public lands using royalties from mining and oil and gas drilling on state lands.

The new fund would be similar to the Kammer Recreation Land Trust Fund; however, the new trust fund would have an off-limits sign to legislators in need of a quick money fix.

Since passage in 1976, the Kammer fund was raided at least four times. Twice the legislature borrowed money - a total of $72 million - to balance the state budget. About $20 million from the fund was transferred to the Michigan Economic Development Authority and Kammer funds were also used to deal with the double-bottomed tankers problem. None of the money has been paid back to the fund.

The Kammer fund has been used to purchase approximately 35,000 acres at a cost of about $30 million. Among the 84 acquisitions was land along the AuSable and Manistee rivers.

The principal features of Proposal B include:

★ The interest and earnings from the fund can be spent for acquisition of land for recreation or for protection of land but not for other state budgetary needs.

★ At least 25 percent of the trust fund spent in any year must go toward buying land.

Red Cross Offers Vital Human Services

By Harrison Goodhue for Red Cross

This will be my last chance to convince those who bother to read this series of articles that the people of Crawford County cannot afford to be without the vital humanitarian services that Red Cross - and only Red Cross - renders and that these services can be continued only if sufficient funds are contributed to cover the cost of rendering those services!

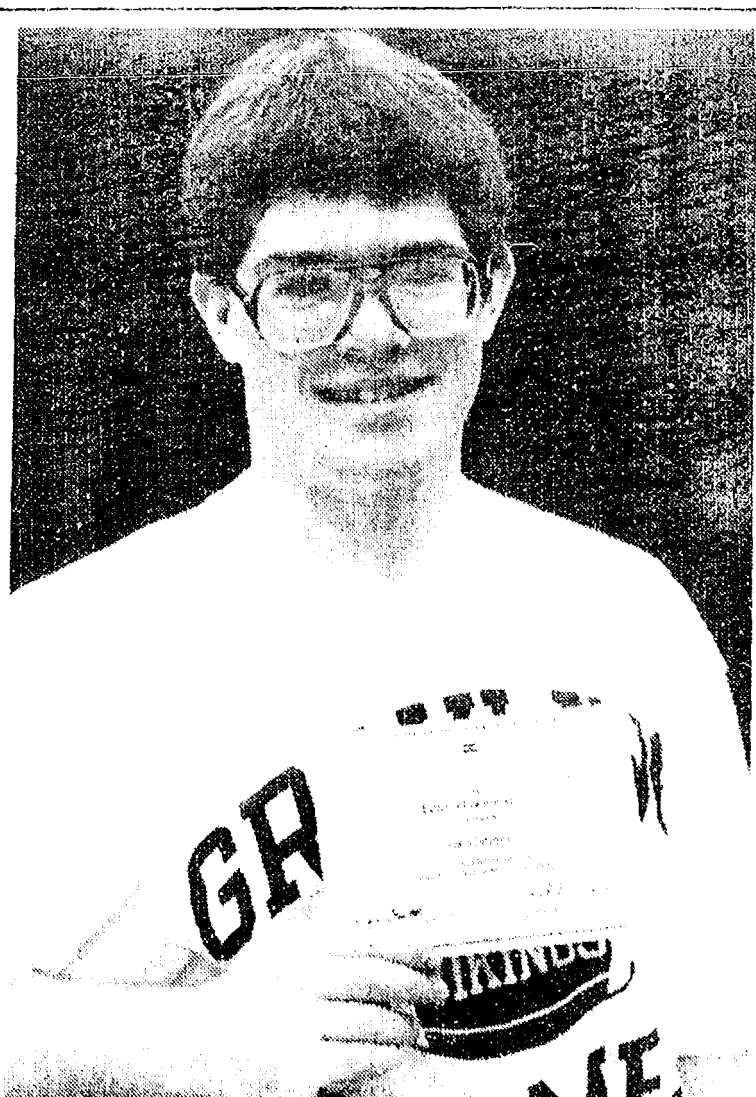

The physical work is done by unpaid Volunteers but it also takes money - $7638.79 last year - and it looks like $8300 this fiscal year - that is about 85 cents per person in Crawford County. Not a very large amount. Less than the cost of a hamburger at McDonalds, or a can of beer, or a pack of cigarettes.

But, unfortunately, raising money for a service organization like American Red Cross is not that simple.

In fiscal 1984 the national organization of American Red Cross, and all the approximately 3000 local Chapters of Red Cross will have spent $50,000,000 rendering Disaster Relief to the victims of disaster throughout the United States. Floods, tornados, hurricanes, explosions - everything you can imagine - happens some place, some where - and it is American Red Cross that is first there with food, housing, clothing, medical care - whatever is needed. The people and the equipment is drawn from all over to concentrate in Texas, Louisiana, Florida, Oklahoma, Tennessee. The money must come from

From Our Corner...

After our column appeared in last week's Avalanche about the memories that were brought back to us when the Timberliner pulled into Grayling that brought some 550 people into town to spend about two and a half hours from the Bay City area we caught hell from Bill O'Brien that there wasn't one bit of news concerning the band that performed for the visitors, and he said they nearly froze their buns off and didn't get any recognition for their efforts in the media...Bill also remarked, I'll have you know that this is the original AuSable River Dixieland Band...so in an effort to make amends to the group we will give a Tip of the Derby to Bill O'Brien, Howard Taylor, D.J. Taylor and Dr. Jim Hough who performed the day the Timberliner was here and also to Jim Gardiner, Marty VanDeVen and Rusty Gates who are also members of the group but, were unable to make that Saturday, for their undieing efforts to perform in all kinds of the elements...the group performs at the Rotary Club Minstrel Show, Winter Sports Carnival Parade, Milltown Parade and other functions...so there Bill, the Gene Krupa of the group, this is your ego trip for this week...compliments of the ol' fella...

Keep the faith...the general election for the highest office in the land and numerous senators and congressmen will be over with in a couple weeks and we all will be able to get back to normal...if you believed everything you read, seen on TV or heard on the radio on the National (Presidential), Congressional and Legislation level there isn't an honest person running for office...all one reads, hears or sees on the upcoming election is mud against the opposition...how we survive after each of these elections just amazes us...and it has been going on for over 200 years...in our opinion, why knitty-pick, why not just tell your qualifications and records and let the cards fall where they may...

Tonight, Sunday, is supposed to be the second great debate between President Reagan and challenger ex-Vice-President Mondale...what's the big deal...who can talk the most or what...the way I see the election is look at the past records...Presently the Reagan administration and the four years that Mondale spent as V-P...there is no need for mud...if you feel the past four years have been down the drain, make that decision, but if you feel it was better than the previous four years make that decision...all we do is urge everyone to vote...from the grass roots to the highest office in the land...make your convictions known at the polls...then, and only then are the true feelings of the country known...

On the state level there has been a little mud tossed around but, not too much, just enough to throw some doubt in the minds of the voters of which shouldn't hinder anyone who takes a second and thinks abit...

On the county level, everyone just about knows everyone, so it is just the amount of initiative one wants to take to go to the polls on November 6th and make your choice known...there is no such thing as staying home and letting George do it for you...it hardly hurts at all, and all it does is take about 15 minutes out of your precious life...do try it...

This week and last we have printed letters endorsing two local candidates, and we did so with the thought that their opposition would still have a chance to answer these in the final week before election. We also received a second letter for a candidate of which we are not running as we stated prior to the primary election we would run but one letter figuring that they are advertising tools...we will accept letters up to five o'clock Friday, Oct. 26th for responding letters to these two...

With this, we will call a halt to this week's efforts and bid T.J., Stefany and Amber goodnight, and to all of our readers have a nice weekend and make plans to be sure to be at the polls November 6th...or by absentee ballot if you will not be here or unable to go to the polls...

MONDALE, A MAN OF FAITH

"I feel uncomfortable talking about religion..." -Walter Mondale. May we therefore share with you the faith of this "humble" man.

Mondale is a Humanist/Presbyterian. In his own words before His Fifth Congress of the International Humanist and Ethical Union held in 1970 at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, he declared: "Although I have never formally joined a humanist society, I think I am a member by inheritance. My preacher father was a humanist - in Minnesota they call them Farmer Laborites and I grew up on a very rich diet of humanism from him. All of our family has been deeply influenced by this tradition, including my brother Lester, a Unitarian Minister, Ethical Culture Leader and Chairman of the Fellowship of Religious Humanists."

Mondale's faith reflects exactly the kind of values humanism stands for. He favors abortion supported by Medicaid funds. "I'm pro-choice - for rich women, for women of moderate income, and for the poor women of our nation."

Mondale's faith supports Gay Rights. "We are including and recruiting openly gay and lesbian candidates on our delegate slates...(My campaign has) openly gay and lesbian staff..." According to the March 8, 1984 Detroit News, Mondale...vowed to interpret federal civil rights laws to include homosexuals."

Mondale's faith opposes force in punishing people. Concerning his own children, Mrs. Mondale said, "Oh, me, he's never spanked the children. That's an admission of defeat and a loss of control." Concerning criminals, Mr. Mondale co-sponsored initiatives for abolition of the death penalty. Concerning Communists, Mondale said, "The American liberation of Grenada means that we have no business even criticizing the Soviets for their invasion of Afghanistan." "I cannot understand - it just baffles me - why the Soviets the last few years have behaved as they have. Maybe we made some mistakes with them." Concerning our national defense, "I'm going to cut defense below the Reagan budget by about $35 to $40 billion." "I was the first candidate for president to support the freeze...I was first, I was early, I was consistent and I know what I'm doing."

Walter Mondale's faith does not oppose raising your taxes. "We're going to have to raise taxes." He opposes a constitutional amendment mandating a balanced budget.

Madalyn Murray O'Hair is a long time supporter of Walter Mondale's faith. She has described him as "an undercover atheist." She has encouraged all political atheists "to come out of the closet."

If you like Humanism, You'll love Walter Mondale.

ATC250R

WHEN WINNING IS EVERYTHING

Nothing out-performs an ATC250R! It's the winningest three-wheeler in the dirt. And for 33, it's even better. Now water-cooled, its potent 246cc reed valve two-stroke engine outpowers all of its competition. The new six-speed, close ratio transmission lets you get all the power to the ground. Improved Pro-Link rear suspension and air-adjustable forks are also featured. All this, plus a new adjustable rear track design makes the 250R hard to beat. And isn't that what being on top is all about?

COMMISSION ON AGING

ELECT HATFIELD SHERIFF

Voters of Crawford County

There is a need for SOME CHANGES to be made in the Crawford County Sheriff's Department. (Besides Budget Control)

It is obvious there is a need for better relationship and communications between the Sheriff and his officers.

In the last 3½ years, 8 officers have left the Crawford County Sheriff's Department. Why? (they didn't retire).

One of the above officers, is the son of a long time law enforcement officer (City & County) and the grandson of a former court official. Why would a fine young officer want to leave a good paying job and his home town?

The Crawford Sheriff is now on his 3rd undersheriff in the last 3 years (all good men). Why would the first 2 undersheriffs resign and give up that coveted position to go back into the ranks? Why?

A few months ago the Sheriff went to an outside source (at cost to the taxpayers) to have them select an undersheriff for him (#3). It would seem that in a department as small as the Crawford Sheriff's department and after 3½ years, the Sheriff would know his men well enough to be able to make that choice on his own.

The Crawford Sheriff's department needs a strong and capable leader. I feel that I have the ability and experience to give that department such leadership.

Respectfully,

Harold Hatfield

Republican Candidate For

of Crawford County

There will be very few, if any signs and posters on street corners but that does not mean that I am not campaigning and serious about the election. I just don't think the signs and posters do much to beautify the community. Should there be any put up, they will be taken down the day after election, win or lose.

(Paid for by the Candidate)

Veep debates meaningless

by Richard Millman

WHAT DID I think of the recent debate between Vice President George Bush and his Democratic challenger, Geraldine Ferraro? Glad you asked.

It was entertaining and tended to reinforce the preconceived biases of every listener who heard/saw it.

In a way, George Bush won the encounter, because he didn't lose it. For the incumbent to face a challenger, head-to-head, carries only peril for the incumbent. When the challenger is also a relatively unknown quantity — and a woman to boot — the chances of pitfall are at least quadrupled for a sitting male vice president.

Mr. Bush escaped the mine fields. In fact, in my own biased viewpoint, he came out pretty well. He was certainly vice-presidential, if not even a bit presidential.

BY THE SAME token, Ms. Ferraro also came out well. She didn't goof up either, and because she didn't, she can be considered to have won, too.

The debate was the first real opportunity for most of us to size up Ms. Ferraro. All we have seen or heard of her, for the most part, is the 30-second squibs we get on the evening television news, or the filtered version of what she said or did as reported in the nation's printed media.

But on the debate we got a chance to see her up close for her share of the 90-minute format. As the lesser-known challenger, she had much to gain and could lose only through an unpardonable gaffe. She certainly didn't lose ground.

I READ in the papers that she was somewhat subdued for her, seeking to protect a softer, rational demeanor. Even so, to me (in my already admitted bias) she seemed to come up rough and ready, somewhat narrow in experience and shallow in philosophy.

Ms. Ferraro presented her expected viewpoints and theories in a plausible manner, just as Mr. Bush said pretty much what we expected of him. The only difference from what was already known about either one of them was the opportunity to judge such things as eye contact, tone of voice, fluidity of phrase, and other such peripheral matters.

"So, all in all, the veep 'debates' were a draw. Both sides can cheer. And both sides have.

BUT AFTER that is said, the big question remains: So what?

The presidential and vice presidential debates, in my opinions, are an extreme exercise in political theatrics and nothing more.

The purpose (from the standpoint of the principals) is not to inform, but to project image. And what does image really mean in the basic question of qualification to govern, to lead the nation? Not much.

Even more remote is the connection between reality and the vice presidential "debates." The purpose is the same — to project image — and any help for the voters to judge qualifications of the candidates to succeed to the presidency in case of national emergency is even more remote.

Yes, they can be entertaining. Yes, they can make good news copy and fodder for political columnists. Yes, they can even influence polls — which should be the subject of another essay at some future time.

But their real importance is blown way out of perspective. We could do without the "debates" and nothing substantial would be lost from the system.

THIS VIEW is not universal, of course. Witness the following comments from columnist Ben Wattenberg, an old time Democrat, writing after the Reagan-Mondale meeting:

"An estimated 100 million Americans saw the debate. How many Americans saw the great Lincoln vs. Douglas debates? How many could have seen the legendary stump speakers of yesteryear as they trudged from one meeting to another, talking to those within the range of the human voice?"

"How many people in the world have the right to choose their own leaders? Not very many. For how long has democracy flourished on the planet? Not for very long. And how important is it? Very important."

Obviously, Mr. Wattenberg thinks the debates are important. Who won? In his view, "the biggest winner...was neither Walter Mondale nor Ronald Reagan — but America."

Three State Proposals On November Ballot

By Sen. Connie Binsfeld
36th District

There are three proposals appearing on this November's ballot. Before going to the polls, you may want to review each question.

Proposal A would amend the Michigan Constitution to allow the legislature or a joint legislative committee to approve or disapprove rules made by an administrative agency. Although new rules are now currently approved by the committee, inserting language into the Constitution would ensure that the bipartisan, bi-cameral group will maintain its authority.

Proponents suggest state agencies have become too powerful. It is argued the power to write laws belongs to the Legislature and not to state bureaucrats. Proponents suggest this constitutional amendment is required to assure rules are written to conform with the intentions of the Legislature. Those opposing Proposal A argue the need to maintain the status quo whereby the legislative branch of state government can stop rules when it finds them inconsistent with legislative intent. Generally, students of state government see this issue as one which would weaken the executive branch and strengthen the legislative branch of state government.

Proposal B would provide Constitutional protection for the Michigan Natural Resources Trust Fund, which was created to acquire and maintain recreational and environmentally-special acreage. In addition to the protection afforded by a Constitutional amendment, a $200 million cap will be placed on the fund with any remaining dollars going to the General Fund. However, the Legislature would retain the authority to raise that ceiling with a three-fifths vote. Proponents argue the need to protect the fund from future "raids" and assure intended use of this fund. Support has been expressed by outdoor sport groups and organizations advocating open space and environmental protection standards. Opponents to this proposal question the wisdom of constitutionally mandating such safeguards. It is argued such restraints should be written in state law and not the constitution. Others suggest the Legislature should have the flexibility and authority to use such funds during economic difficulties rather than raising taxes to fund essential state services.

The most controversial of the ballot issues, Proposal C, would require all tax increases in the future and

Workers' Comp Rates Cut by 43 Percent in Three Years

Warren M. Hoyt, Executive Dir., MPA

The cost of workers' compensation insurance to business has been cut by 43 percent since the system was reformed three years ago, insurance commissioner Nancy Baerwaldt reported recently.

The reforms, which require more competition in the insurance market, will probably mean costs will come down even more as long as companies aggressively shop for the lowest rates, Baerwaldt said.

She made her comments in releasing the first report on the State of Competition in the insurance industry, which determined reasonable competition did exist in 1983 — the first full year of open competition — as is required by law.

About 40 percent of the state's business payroll is covered by insurance, with the rest of the businesses covered by self-insurance or group self-insurance plans.

Although final figures will not be available until after March when insurance companies file annual reports, Baerwaldt estimated businesses will pay $493 million in premiums in 1984, compared to $859 million in 1981.

Meanwhile, the report found insurers were paying higher percentages of their premiums in benefits: to 79 percent in 1983 compared to 55 percent in 1982.

Baerwaldt said most insurers could operate at a profit even if loss ratios were as much as 80-90 percent.

"The reforms which the Legislature passed have worked better than they must have imagined," she declared.

She added the amount which costs can continue to cut in large part "depends on the consumer. If they don't shop around, they probably won't fall much more. But if they aggressively shop, we will see rates fall."

The report found that there are wide variations in the rates charged by insurers and that some businesses could reduce costs by as much as 40 percent by changing insurers.

Baerwaldt said that indicates the rates of some insurers are still too high and, while some rates may be offset by credits, those can be discriminatory.

She said in 1984, insurers should be studied by individual types of risk.

The report further found that other defects in competition include the concentration of policies written by the largest insurers increased in 1983, too many businesses remain in the Placement Facility which provides coverage for businesses not wanted by insurers (it has been reduced by 30 percent with the businesses in the facility being the tiny ones with two-three employees), many insurers use dividend plans as a marketing device and the legal challenges to the 17 percent rate cut by the Accident Fund indicates some insurers do not want open competition.

Additional Federal Money Released For Highway Expenditures

Governor James Blanchard has announced the Federal Highway Administration has authorized the expenditure of an additional $9.3 million on state highway construction and improvements this year.

The funds released to Michigan will be spent primarily for I-94 reconstruction in the Kalamazoo area and reconstruction of the interchange of I-94 and M-39 (Southfield) freeway in Allen Park.

The governor said the additional funding raises to $26.6 million the added "obligations authority" given to Michigan by the federal agency since August 1.

The funds were originally allocated to other states that were unable to obligate their share of federal funds for highway work prior to the end of the fiscal year 1983-84.

The money will contribute to a second straight year of contract awards totaling $400 million for improvements to state highways, major county roads and urban thoroughfares.

Hanson Hills Benefit Roast "The Itallion Stallion"

Once again, the annual roast has been scheduled, with proceeds going to help Hanson Hills Park. This year's roastee will be none other than Paul Thomson, Grayling's own Itallion Stallion. When the roasters get done plucking this Chicken Cacciatore, there won't be enough meat left to make a decent wing-ding.

The affair, always a sell-out, is scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 25, at the Camp Grayling Armory. There will be a cash bar open at 6:30, followed by a delicious Chicken Cordon Bleu dinner. But the main course will be the Prince of Pasta himself, Grayling's leading spaghetti bender and insurance legend...Paul J. Thomson.

Don't miss the fun when one of Grayling's favorites gets the ridicule he so richly deserves from a panel of roasters who can't wait to sink their teeth into this one.

Tickets are $8.50 per person, and can be purchased at Grayling State Bank, Cornell Real Estate and Insurance, or from Marty VanDeVen, John Naour, or George Stancil.

Kirtland to Present "Fantasticks" Oct. 25-26

The longest running musical in the world, "The Fantasticks", by Jones and Schmidt, will be presented by the Kirtland Players in the Kirtland Auditorium on Thursday, October 25, and Friday, October 26 at 8 p.m., and on Sunday, October 28 at 3 p.m. There will be no Saturday performance.

This charming musical presents a boy (Steve Kucharek, Grayling), a girl (Amy K. Smith, Grayling), their fathers (Warren Doten, Grayling and Randy Thomas, Houghton Lake) in a romantic tale of young love, adventure and family spats. All the events occur in the swirl of the excellent musical score from which the song "Try to Remember (the Kind of September)" is the most famous. El Gallo (Dave MacQueen, Mio) is the bandit/narrator who directs the proceedings and makes certain that all turns out well for the two families.

He is assisted by the Mute (Cathy Cay, Mio), Henry, the old actor (Jeanne Meir, Higgins Lake), and Mortimer (Michael Gates, Mio).

The cast is a group of experienced area performers and musical talents. Dave MacQueen (El Gallo) is the band and theatre director at Mio High School, and has directed over 20 musicals himself; Amy K. Smith (the girl) is a soprano who has attended Interlochen Academy of the Performing Arts; Warren Doten (the girl's father) has had experience in opera and Randy Thomas (the boy's father) is a veteran of vocal music and Barber Shop singing in Houghton Lake. The production staff is also a seasoned group, featuring Marilyn Brown as the music director. She is a graduate of the University of Michigan and now teaches music in the public schools in Roscommon County. Sarah Oppy is the accompanist and is a music teacher who has instructed many area residents in the finer points of becoming a pianist. Dr. Bob Amsden, production director, has staged five plays in this area and has acted in or directed over 30 plays. He is the Director of the Kirtland Community Theatre and administers the Performing Artist Series.

"The Fantasticks" opened in New York at the Sullivan Street Playhouse in 1960, and is still running there today. The show has played to more than 10,000 audiences in that theatre alone. Jones and Schmidt, the authors, have been working together these twenty-five years since "The Fantasticks" opened and are currently working on a show which combines "commercial" appeal with their characteristic compression and simplicity. They have presented "110 in the Shade," "I Do! I Do!", the original musicals "Celebration", and "Philemon", which won the Outer Circle Critics Award in 1975.

Tickets for "The Fantasticks" are available at Roscommon Hardware; True Value Hardware in Higgins Lake; Flowers by Josie in Grayling or by calling 275-5121, ext. 226. Tickets for the remainder to the shows in the Performing Artist Series, including Boots Randolph tickets, are available by calling that number.

NOTE OF THANKS

We would like to thank the Crawford County Ambulance Corp. and the Sheriff's Department, for the splendid service they gave when called to help us a few weeks ago.

Their professional care and concern for everyone is greatly appreciated. We truly hope that every person in Crawford County realized how quickly professional help is at their beck and call and because of these departments many lives have been saved. We cannot remember each and every name that helped us, but we do thank you.

Dear Whitey,
Nov. 6, 1984 is the date set aside for another National & Local Election and as a result of this time I think thought should be given to those that gave themselves so the rest of us may exercise our right to Vote!

I'll come to the point and ask everyone to look at the monument at the front of the Courthouse. The monument reads "In Memory of all Veterans" and the flame for this monument hasn't burned since being extinguished during the "Energy Crisis".

Let's re-light the flame "In Memory of all Veterans" and keep it burning. Please contact: Paul Smith, 405 Brink St., Grayling, MI 49738, if you will support this effort as an individual or through your service club and I will contact the Board of Commissioners, as well as the City Council, to see what steps have to be taken to re-light the "Veterans Flame".

Thank you,
Paul Smith

Konvicka-Todd Exchange Vows

Judy Lee Konvicka and David Norman Todd were united in marriage August 18, 1984 in the Little Stone Church on historic Mackinac Island, Michigan.

The Rev. Phillip Nancarrow of the Episcopal Church of the Transfiguration, Ironwood, Michigan performed the double-ring, early evening ceremony.

Judy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Konvicka of Roscommon, Michigan. David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Todd of Frostproof, Florida.

The bride wore a Bride's Choice gown designed by Tito Maressa with a stand up neckline, illusion front and back net yokes, close-fitting bodice and leg-of-mutton sleeves, trimmed with embroidery and seed pearls, and a chapel length train. She wore a chapel length veil with a matching pearl crown and carried a bouquet of cascading white orchids, pink sweetheart roses, stephanotis and ferns.

A cocktail and dinner reception followed at the Grand Hotel where the movie "Somewhere in Time" was filmed. Transportation was via a burgundy horse-drawn carriage.

Betty Richards, sister of the bride, was Matron of Honor. Norman Todd, father of the groom, was Best Man. Completing the wedding party were Joyce Firack and Patricia Todd, bridesmaids; Adam Bell and Ken Todd, groomsmen; and Ed Todd and Marshall Fischer, ushers.

The matron of honor and bridesmaids wore dusty rose Edwardian gowns with an illusion sweetheart neckline, stand up collar, and embroidery trimmed yoke and leg-of-mutton sleeves. Their bouquets were made of white with burgundy orchids, pink sweetheart roses and ivy cascading over a twisted-twig wreath.

The bride's mother wore a sharon rose crepe gown with a lace-trimmed jacket and a corsage of white carnations and pink sweetheart roses. The groom's mother wore a cocoa gown with a chiffon jacket and a corsage of white carnations and pink sweetheart roses.

The couple will live at 807 East Monroe Circle in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania 15229. Both are Automation Engineers for General Electric.

Crawford County Board of Commissioners

October 9, 1984 — Regular Meeting

SYNOPSIS

The October 9th meeting of the County Board convened at 9:45 a.m. Kitchen, Neilson, Mattis, Miller and Harland attended all day; Welsor attended the afternoon session; Halstead was absent; and 12 visitors observed at various times.

IN FORMAL ACTION, COMMISSIONERS:

- Accepted the 9-27-84 minutes as presented.
- Reviewed and accepted 17 pieces of correspondence.
- Appointed Jeannette Kitchen as one of the county's permanent representatives on the Transportation Authority, filling the vacancy created by the resignation of Joe Wakeley.
- Appointed John Miller as alternate member of the Transportation Authority. A second permanent vacancy created by the resignation of Joe Meredith will be filled later.
- Approved General Fund Vouchers in the amount of $63,096.89, Fish Hatchery Vouchers of $186.69 and Depot Fund Vouchers of $270.36. Commissioners' salary, per diem and expenses were approved as follows: Kitchen: $200.00, $270.00 and $84.34, Harland: $150.00, $210.00 and $10.66, Neilson: $150.00, $170.00 and $23.32, Mattis: $150.00, $230.00 and $38.72, Miller: $600.00, $200.00 and $22.00, Halstead: $150.00, $140.00 and $43.66, Welsor: $150.00, $100.00 and $1.98.
- Authorized the Assistant Prosecutor to attend a seminar on labor mediation and court rulings on sentencing.
- Postponed adoption of the Apportionment Report, and the setting of all but the county's millage rate until the October 26th meeting.
- Set the county's 1984 operational millage at 6.50, which provides a maximum rate of 6.43877 when the Headlee reduction fraction of .99058 is applied.
- Set the 1984 Commission On Aging operational millage at .50 mills; which will compute to .49529 mills when reduced by .99058 under Headlee.
- Set the county's Debt Retirement millage rate at .34865, a reduction from the 1983 rate of .36.
- Renewed a policy which allows officials, department heads and employees to enter the courthouse after hours by signing in and out through the Sheriff Department.
- Donated surplus light bars from old patrol vehicles to Frederic and Beaver Creek Townships.
- Following lengthy review, accepted the 1983 All Funds Audit Report prepared by the firm of Chadwick, Zick and Company, P.C. The report offered several suggestions for improvement of internal policies and accounting procedures; and confirmed the 1983 and 1984 deficits.

REPORTS AND ANNOUNCEMENTS:
—Transportation: Rippling Waters Lodge has donated between $4,500.00 to $5,000.00 for downpayment on snow removal equipment for the airport. Balance of cost will be financed with payments to be covered by rental income from office space used by Dial-A-Ride. The amended airport budget is slightly less than was originally adopted.

—DSS: Sexual abuse of children in the community is a concern; and efforts are underway to generate awareness of the problem.
—Commission On Aging: Offices are back in the Housing Commission facility on Lawndale; and organization is progressing well. Manager Haag is compiling a list of programs of particular interest to seniors; and the nursing program has been well received.

—Landfill: Miller gave the opinion that if the State could be required to fund the clay capping of the old landfill site under provisions of Headlee; more than likely our State revenue sharing monies would be reduced proportionately to cover the cost. Miller also stated that the present contamination problem is a county responsibility. The Landfill Board has authorized the capping, he said, and it will be started in early spring. No townships in either Crawford or Otsego Counties have yet indicated interest in helping to fund the project.

—District Health: The District wants a confirmation of Crawford's 1985 Appropriation by October 15th. Other counties in the District have indicated that if Crawford fails to provide the appropriation as established by formula, health services to Crawford residents will be cut proportionately to accommodate our shortfall.

IN OTHER BUSINESS, THE BOARD:

—Discussed with the Equalization Director the need for local taxing units to file their certifications of compliance with taxing and assessing laws in a timely manner.
—Learned that city police were investigating unauthorized soliciting of funds for Hanson Hills.

—Heard brief updates on activities of Roads & Bridges, the CoPoCo Committee, Law Enforcement, Soil Conservation and Labor.

Meeting adjourned at 4:25 p.m.
Full text of official minutes is available in the Office of the Crawford County Clerk.

Root-Phinney Vows Spoken

Before an altar adorned with candles, Tamra Lynn Root became the bride of Dale Allan Phinney on September 15, 1984, at three o'clock in the afternoon at the Cadillac United Methodist Church. Rev. Donald Fry, assisted by Father Edwin Thome, performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Root of Marion. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Phinney of Lansing. Wedding music was provided by organist Harold E. Kelly of Marion, and trumpeter Paul Decker of Marion. Soloist Rosanne Anderson of Cadillac, sang

"Follow Me", "The Lord's Prayer", "Endless Love", and "My Sweet Lady".

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride's dress had a Victorian bodice with English net ruffle hemmed in Embroidered collar. The skirt and chapel train were of chiffon hemmed with rows of chantilly lace ruffles and the skirt front was trimmed with lace medallions. Her small shaped derby type hat was covered with Chantilly lace and pearls and had a side trim of hand rolled flowers with pouff and streamers of imported illusion. She carried a bouquet with peach roses, small white figi mums, white mini carnations, baby's breath, ivy, and lace streamers.

Linda Kish of Cadillac, a friend of the bride, served as Maid of Honor. Bridesmaids were Dawn Wilcox of Grand Rapids, a friend of the bride; Debbie Knickerbocker of Marion, sister of the bride; and Julie Root of Marion, sister of the bride. Flower girl was Erin Gullekson of Cadillac, friend of the bride. The attendants wore peach chiffon dresses with ruffled bodice and bustle back, and carried lace fans with peach roses and baby's breath.

Ric Kienbaum of Lansing, a friend of the groom, served as Best Man. Groomsmen were Bob Cole of Cadillac, a friend of the groom; Bob Phinney of Allendale, brother of the groom; and Don Ealy of Marion, a friend of the groom. Ring bearer was Joel Meyers of Cadillac, a friend of the groom. Ushers were Dale Root of East Lansing, brother of the bride, and Kim Knickerbocker of Marion, brother-in-law of the bride.

Following the ceremony, a dinner reception was held at the church social hall with Mr. and Mrs. David Wolfe of Kalkaska, as Mistress and Master of Ceremonies. Attending the punch bowl were Karen McPhail and Denise Sampson, cousins of the bride from Brown City. Lavonne Phinney of Allendale, sister-in-law of the groom, and Sheron Moore of Tustin, sister of the groom, cut the wedding cake. Gift table attendants were Lois Janes of Temple, Texas, sister of the groom, and Kay Moore of Tustin, niece of the groom. Other assistants were Terri Meyers of Cadillac, a friend of the bride, as the bride's personal attendant; Mary Mooney of Cadillac, sister of the groom, at the guest book; and Carrie Mooney of Cadillac, niece of the groom, handing out bulletins.

The bride is a graduate of Marion High School and is presently employed at the Wexford-Missaukee Area Vocational Center in Cadillac. The groom is a graduate of Cadillac High School, Lansing Community College, and Central Michigan University, and is presently employed as the manager of the Grayling Insurance Agency in Grayling.

After a honeymoon to the Pocono Mountains, East Coast, and Niagara Falls, the couple will make their home at 206 South Cherry in Kalkaska.

Sabourin-Carey Vows Exchanged

Annette E. Sabourin and William L. Carey were united in marriage at St. Huberts Catholic Church in Higgins Lake on September 8.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Henry of Lewiston and the groom is the son of Mrs. Mary Carey of Higgins Lake.

The bride, who was given in marriage by both parents, wore a white victorian gown of embroidered organza, high neckline of beaded silk venise lace, full length sleeves, and tiny mother of pearl buttons from back of neck to waist. The gown featured a full skirt with chantilly lace ruffles cascading into a satin cathedral train. She wore a crown of lace and pearls with fingertip veil. She carried a free form bouquet of pink and lavender sweetheart roses, highlighted by white phalaenopsis, mauve japhet orchids, ivy, and ming fern.

The bride's attendants wore daphne rose organza gowns with fitted bodice, a matching jacket with puffed sleeves and high ruffled collar. They carried a cascade of lavender roses and miniature carnations with a background of galax leaves.

Sue M. Sabourin, the bride's sister, of Gaylord was the maid of honor.

Sealing Out Decay

By Barry W. Fenn, D.D.S.

Dental caries (tooth decay) are caused by dental plaque, a thin, sticky, colorless film containing bacteria. When sugar is eaten, the bacteria produce an acid which attacks the tooth enamel, finally breaking it down, and creating a cavity, or hole, in the tooth. Fluoride, while it reduces the incidence of all types of caries, is most effective in preventing those cavities that occur on the smooth surfaces of the teeth, such as gumline cavities. The greatest occurrence of caries is found in the pits and fissures of the biting surfaces of the back teeth (molars and bicuspids.) Sealants are thin, plastic coatings which, when applied to these surfaces, form a protective barrier to keep food debris from being packed down into these grooves.

Although most people are only now beginning to hear of sealants, they are neither new or exotic. What is new about them are the improvements that have been made in the materials themselves as well as the methods used to apply them. Sealants are endorsed by both the National Institute of Health and the American Dental Association.

Prime candidates for sealant protection are children. Application is essentially a painless procedure, requiring neither anesthetic or drilling and taking only a few minutes. The biting surfaces of the teeth are first thoroughly cleaned and then etched with a mild acid solution. This makes the surface of the tooth able to bond with the sealant, which is brushed on in much the same way nail polish is applied. This coating may be formulated to harden by itself, or may be cured by exposure to a small beam of light.

Recent clinical studies report that most sealants are retained for several years. If part of the sealant is lost it will still offer some protection and may be resealed when discovered at the dental check-up. Another major concern has been the fear of sealing in tiny or incipient caries, which might conceivably progress undetected deeper into the tooth. Several studies indicate that this does not occur. In fact, sealing over such cavities cuts-off the bacteria's nutrient supply, consequently, the number of bacteria tends to wane over time.

When sealants are properly applied and maintained, they can successfully protect the chewing surfaces of your child's teeth. A total prevention program should include regular visits to a dentist, the use of fluorides, brushing and flossing the teeth daily, and limiting the number of times sugar-rich foods are eaten. If these measures are followed, decay can be sharply reduced or eliminated completely.

Roaches
UC Riverside experiments have identified common ingredients in some household pesticides whose effectiveness against roaches has diminished. But researchers do have some good news. They've found the most effective overall control of roaches is boric acid, (97 to 99 percent pure power), and in UCR tests, roaches have not shown resistance to this compound.

Miss Grayling Applications Deadline Drawing Near

As we read in the letter from our 1984 Miss Grayling, Shawn Lovely, last week, there are many rewards as well as responsibilities in the position of "Miss Grayling". One of the biggest rewards of the title (along with serving your community) is receiving a scholarship. The winner of the Miss Grayling pageant receives a $500.00 scholarship to the college of her choice, in addition to many other gifts. The first runner up receives a $250.00 scholarship and the second runner up receives a $100.00 scholarship. When a young lady starts thinking about filling out an application for the pageant, she should remember that this pageant is not a "Beauty Contest". When a person wears the crown and title of Miss Grayling she represents every business and every resident of our community. She is "Grayling" to those she meets. She must be more than nice to look at. Our "Miss Grayling" should have poise, be friendly and outgoing, and most of all...she should be proud of her community.

So, if you're deciding whether to fill out that application, think of how proud you'd be to represent "Grayling for 1985." Think too, of how proud your community will be of you.

Applications are still available at Cornell Real Estate, Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce, and at the counseling office of Grayling High School.

Dear Editor,

Recently I have noticed my eyesight is becoming worse, I am in my early twenties. I am now afraid I may be going blind. People these days are always talking about all of the bad things in the world today, and that these things are ugly. Well, I am now becoming aware of all the beautiful things there are. If I should go blind, I will never get to see a tiger in the wild, something I have always wanted to see. I will never get to see the cute face of a kitten or puppy again, snow slowly falling to the ground, the beautiful colors of trees in the fall, or the new budding trees in the spring, a full moon with all of the universe behind, or a falling star on which to make a wish, a deer gracefully running through the trees, or a fish swimming in a sparkling clear stream, the sun shining on children at play, or the smiling face of a child when they see the brightly colored Christmas tree, or lightning darting through the sky as rain falls, and what about the multi-colored rainbow which reminds us that life is beautiful even after the storm. I am sure that I have not mentioned everything here, but I want to remind people that no matter what your problem is, God gives us beautiful things to look at, which for the most part, we don't even bother to look at. Well, I am starting to look while I still can, and thank God that he has given me the opportunity to see what most people don't bother with.

Not Afraid of what I can see.

Where's the Beef?

I was certainly happy to see in last weeks paper that Don Welser is back in the running as a write-in candidate for County Commissioner for our District. Although I haven't seen or spoken to Mr. Welser in probably a year or so, I felt very badly when I read he was defeated by 1 vote several months ago in the 1st. election. My husband and I both voted for Mr. Welser on the absentee ballot, but learned they weren't counted and couldn't be, because of arriving in the mail the morning after the election. That is what really made us feel bad. We tried, but our votes didn't count and the two votes would have made him the winner. Seems as if they should be required to use the Post Office mark or the date it was mailed.

Now my concern is, where are this Banker from Gaylord's credentials? What does he stand for? Is he a conservative (like Mr. Welser) or what? If he hasn't had anything to say before the election what good is he going to be to the voters after the election if he wins?

I'm reading the minutes of the present board and articles in the paper. I think Mr. Welser is the only one to ever object and say "NO". Now it appears instead of 6 yes votes it will be 100% unanimous if the Gaylord Banker gets elected, the "people" won't have a chance.

I feel we need someone with Mr. Welser. I think Mr. Welser is the only commissioner we've ever had since "Sal Truettner" that really cares about the voter or taxpayer and it's a shame to lose him. My husbands job has us again temporarily out of town, so the only help we can give on Mr. Welser's behalf is to get our ballot and "write in" in the mail well ahead of the election so at least it'll count this time. But, we hope others get behind him so he can be re-elected as a spokesperson for the taxpayer.

Khris Huffman

P.S. Enclosed is 10.00 for help on Mr. Welser's ads. Thank you.

Look Up! American

The Teens For Christ Singers will be presenting the Patriotic musical "Look Up! America" at the Grayling Free Methodist Church at 11:00 a.m. on Sunday, Oct. 28, 1984.

"Look Up! America" features a 60-voice choir, special lighting, costumes, and a 100 slide multi-media presentation. The program is informative and entertaining - but it's more than just another history lesson. This musical rises to the challenge of breathing new life into old patriotic "standards" while reinforcing the theme of the presence of God in our nation's development.

"Look Up! America" takes a journey back through our nation's history and shows from God's perspective our development as the land of the free and the home of the brave.

No tickets are necessary - a love-offering will be taken. The public is invited.

CANDY IS PART OF HALLOWEEN, but 5-year-old Kelly Mathison of Detroit knows that before eating treats, little witches and warlocks should have them checked by an adult. The Automobile Club of Michigan urges motorists to "Bring 'Em Back Alive!" this Halloween by being extra alert for children darting into streets. Trick-or-treaters should follow Kelly's example and wear face makeup rather than masks, wear bright or illuminated costumes and cross only at corners. To make this a safe Halloween, the Auto Club is offering free reflective treat bags and safety tip cards at its 54 offices statewide.

G.H.S. Students Make Stratford Theater Trip

By Erin Hickey

On October 2, the Advanced Studies and Theater Departments of Grayling High School sponsored the second annual trip to the Stratford Theater in Stratford, Ontario. Featured this year was the tragic romance, "Romeo and Juliet," starring Colm Feore as Romeo and Seana McKenna as Juliet.

Attending from the High School were: freshmen Erin Barrow, Kevin Hunter, Julie Huss and Brenda Ohsowski; sophomores Sherry Hamilton, Chris Helton, Erin Hickey, Kim McDonough, Jeff McLaughlin, Allen Morford, Colette Petrosky, Debbie Schanz, Amy Smith, Dave Somerville, and Ramona Stancil.

From the junior class were: Kathy Allen, Beth Bedard, Christy Best, Kim Cole, Stephanie Hindmarsh, Leanne Hunter, Jeff Martinez, Cris McLaughlin, and Kevin Reynolds. Seniors, Vikki Luther, Val Nelson, Maria Perez, and Damon Thayer also attended, along with several members of the Middle School Advanced Studies Program. Adult Chaperones for the group were Nancy Lemmen and Gayle Mills, ASP teachers; and Vicki Bedard, Karla Dosch, Judy Mesack, and Ivy Podolski, for a total of 47.

Stratford, a Shakespearean Theatre, is located in the small, picturesque town of Stratford, Ontario, which is about 70 miles east of Port Huron, Michigan. The bus arrived early enough for the group to explore the town, buy lunch and souvenirs, and wander around the theater's campus-like setting.

The play itself, which was acted out exactly as written by Shakespeare, was a bit difficult to understand. But thanks to Mrs. Judy Mesack, who visited both Advanced Studies classes to give the students a presentation on "Romeo and Juliet", most of them were better able to understand generally what was happening throughout the play.

Although spending a day in Ontario may sound like the perfect opportunity for a day off school, it was far from that. A fee of $25 was paid by each person to cover the cost of transportation and the purchase of a ticket, and all meals had to be provided by the individual. The bus departed from the Middle School at 5:00 a.m., and returned at 12:00 midnight. Many of the students were up for nearly 21 hours on Tuesday and were expected to attend school on Wednesday morning.

Regardless of all the sacrifices that were made, the trip to Stratford was enjoyed by everyone. The students not only experienced an interesting educational event, but also had a great time. All attending would like to thank Howard Taylor, of the Holiday Inn's LeCoache Tours, for safely transporting us to and from Stratford.

RSVP Reports

By Gerry Yates, Dir.

Welcome to news of the Retired Senior Volunteer Program. For those of you who didn't see last week's Avalanche, I'd like to introduce myself, I'm Gerry Yates. I've moved to Sherry's desk as Director of RSVP. The other change in our office is the addition of Jann Armstrong as Secretary/Bookkeeper. All of our volunteers will be hearing from Jann on the telephone at one time or another so we invite you to stop by the office to greet her and "put a face" to the voice you'll be hearing on the phone.

Another successful summer season is behind us with the closing of the Historical Museum, Hartwick Pines Book Nook and the Fish Hatchery for the winter. Many volunteers are back at the schools but there's one request which still needs to be filled for a Spanish tutor. If you, or anyone you know, would be interested in this assignment, please call the RSVP office at 348-4341 or 348-8322. Other requests include: drivers for Girl Scouts, child care one evening a week for Youth Services, teacher aids for pre-school children at Grayling Co-op Nursery and someone with sign language experience for a person who is deaf. Again, if you would be interested in any of these assignments, please call the office.

If you are 60 or older and unfamiliar with the Retired Senior Volunteer Program, we invite you to stop by the office and learn what RSVP is all about. Our volunteers tell us that in helping others, they often help themselves, as well. We are located at 308 Lawndale, across the street from the Grayling Housing Facility and Commission on Aging offices.

The Youth Service Bureau

The Youth Service Bureau is sorry to lose one of our Counselors, Amy Bagnasco. Amy has been with the Bureau for two years. During that time, she has proved herself invaluable, made many friends and become an excellent Counselor. Amy will surely be missed and we appreciate all she has done while working with the Youth Service Bureau. We wish her lots of luck with her new job!

Sibs for Kids is now a part of Youth Services and we would like to welcome Marey Jurkovich as the new Coordinator. Marey is looking for volunteers, so please contact her at our office - 348-2841, ext. 262 - if you would be interested in becoming a Big Brother or a Big Sister. The car seat program continues as before, and Marey is happy to assist anyone who would like to purchase a seat through this program.

The Youth Service Bureau is happy to welcome back our Office Manager, Bonnie O'dell. Bonnie has just returned from a year's leave of absence during which time she was living in the St. Ignace area and continuing to work for the Bureau on a part time basis. She is now able to give the Bureau her full time and it's great to have her back!

The Youth Service Bureau is a United Way funded organization.

What Does This Teacher Have To Say?

By Cathy Hayes, Journalism Class

Miss Nona Barsamian is the Spanish teacher at Grayling Middle School. Her knowledge of Spanish comes from living with a Mexican family.

Miss Barsamian is a very interesting person. She says she lived in Mexico for a while with a Mexican family. This is where she picked up most of her Spanish education. She also says she took college courses in Spanish. She chose this subject to teach because she said the Spanish classes that she took were fun. She also said that Spanish is becoming more and more the secondary language in the United States.

To make her subject interesting she teaches her students games, makes puppets, teaches them songs, makes Spanish foods, and does reports on Spanish countries.

Miss Barsamian said it depends upon what levels of Spanish she is teaching how much she covers in a year. There are three levels of Spanish she teaches: beginning, exploratory, and advanced. Exploratory only learns words and listening; beginning learns writing, speaking and listening. Advanced is the one that does the most work. They do more listening, more speaking, and write paragraphs in Spanish. She considers our middle school to be lucky, she said, because most of the middle schools don't have a Spanish class.

Three students gave their comments about the Spanish classes. One said, "I think that the Spanish class is a good idea." Others said that Miss Barsamian is one of the strictest teachers in the whole school.

So the next time you see Miss Barsamian, remember she is a fun, strict, interesting, and nice teacher once you get to know her.

Chamber Chatter

By Staff

The Timberliner was here, spent some time, and now it's gone back to Bay City and points in between. It was a great day, a noble experiment, a "shot in the arm" for business and something to see for the kids and adults who want to be kids about trains. We spoke to the promoters of the train about returning for the Winter Carnival. Unfortunately, the passenger cars do not have heat, so that's out. However, we did talk about the possibility of another train for the Milltown Festival, last week in July. Can you imagine Grayling at that time, the Guard will be here, summer residents will be here, tourists will be here, the canoe race people will be here, and then a train with another 500 plus people who would come on Saturday and leave Sunday afternoon. Wow!! We hope that this time, the Avalanche will mention at least once that the Timberliner visit was co-ordinated by the Chamber of Commerce.

A big thanks goes to Bob McLachlan of Milltown Refuge for the use of the transfer bins by the depot, also to Larry McNamara and the Dixieland Band for the great welcome to the Timberliner visitors. We also thank Dave Frederick of Dial-A-Ride for his assistance and everyone who was on hand to greet the Timberliner.

The Walter Nowaks and the Nelson Miles attended the Keep Michigan Beautiful Awards Banquet last week in Mt. Pleasant. Mrs. Miles accepted the silver award for the Chamber and the Beautification Committee. Both Grayling couples attending were seen on television, furthering the promotion of Grayling. Grayling we're proud of you — you really are beautiful!

The community is gearing up for an exciting fall season to provide for an active Winter season. The "Roast" of Paul Thomson to raise funds for Hanson Hills will take place October 25. Then a little later, on November 3rd will be Las Vegas Night to raise funds for the many activities of the Winter Carnival. Let's support these activities with the kind of community spirit that Grayling is famous for. That's the Spirit!!

The Michigan Snowmobile Association is holding several meetings in our area concerning the coming season's problems of grooming and other responsibilities. The DNR who has furnished groomers and staff in the past, now states that the State Budget will not allow these practices to continue. This matter will be of agenda importance at the October 27th meeting at the Houghton Lake Holiday Inn at 10:00 a.m. Another meeting is scheduled for November 5th at the Grayling Holiday Inn at an evening meeting at 7:00 p.m. At this time Duane Brooks of the DNR will further discuss the future of snowmobiling in this part of the country. The local Snowmobile Council of Grayling and all people of the area such as motel owners, restaurant owners, snowmobile dealers and especially snowmobilers themselves should make every effort for the November 5th meeting. The future of this outdoor activity depends upon your interest and support. That's November 5, 7:00 p.m., Holiday Inn.

Doodles From The Tall Timber

Greet a friend and, likely as not, the first comment is about the state of the weather. We Michiganders know full well that the weather is usually in a state of change. We may not know exactly what to expect in the next five minutes or the next day, but change can be expected.

There have been many changes in radios, televisions and radar, but most weather stations have about the same kinds of instruments that old Ben Franklin had in his laboratory. He had the anemometer, barometer and hygrometer. The same instruments are still used to measure the qualities and pressures of the atmosphere.

Without the speed of modern communications and a wide-spread network of weather stations, our ancestors still had a good idea of what tomorrow's weather would be. For example, the following sayings give an indication that the chimney and hearth were instruments of weather folklore: "A storm makes its first announcement down the chimney" or "A storm wind settles in the chimney, but a clear wind coaxes out the smoke."

A farmer might well hang a piece of cord from the ceiling of his barn, with a heavy stick tied to its end as a pointer. As the weather changed, the farmer marked on the floor what was going on with the weather. This is or was a version of the weather guide in the form of a tiny house with two doors from which emerged a human figure according to the change promised in the weather. Even the weather vane was used effectively as a predictor as the following saying indicates:

"A weathercock that swings to the west,
Proclaims the weather to be the best."

A weathercock that swings to the east,
Proclaims no good to man or beast."

Commission on Aging Seeks Reduced Millage

The Crawford County Commission on Aging is seeking a reduction in the present millage rate. The Commission on Aging has determined that 1/4 instead of 1/2 mill will be sufficient to continue the services and programs being offered by the Commission on Aging. Previously much of the county funds were used to pay administrative salaries. With the elimination of two salaries the monies can be used for programming costs and expenses.

The utilization of the Commission on Aging's most important programs, Example: Daily meals and Home Delivered, Outreach, Information & Referral, Home-making and Personal Care is the goal of the new project manager, Sherry Haag.

The reduction from 1/2 to 1/4 mill will enable the Commission on Aging to continue providing all the above services plus new ones to the community. Many new programs are being developed for the coming year in addition to the programs already going on. Example: Consumer Education, Self Help Series, Better Mental Health, Better Physical Health, Book Club and other.

Evening meals are also being considered. Millage monies will be used to cover the expenses of these programs as well as the rent for the space for Commission on Aging and RSVP Offices within the Grayling Housing Commission Facility.

Approximately $42,305 will be generated by the 1/4 mill. Without the millage monies the necessary funds for rent and program expenses would not be available and services would have to be curtailed.

The Retired Senior Volunteer Program would also be effected if the millage does not pass due to Commission on Aging sponsorship and providing the rent funds for RSVP Office space.

Anyone requesting more information may call 517-348-7123 or write P.O. Box 427, Grayling, Michigan 49738.

Thirty members of the XYZ retired group from Bethlam Lutheran Church with Pastor Overdier from Traverse City enjoyed their second annual color tour, Friday, October 19th, with a potluck luncheon at the Wilfred Ziegler home. Everyone enjoyed the song fest after lunch.

Pallbearers for Arthur Williams funeral were John Traylor, Robert Traylor, Donald Millikin, Jack Millikin, Roy Traylor, and Walt Isenbauer.

5. Goblins should approach residents having porch lights or similar indications of welcome displayed.

6. Parents being aware of suspicious items brought home by young people should question where they were obtained, and if any items are found to be abnormal they should be immediately brought to the attention of the local law enforcement authorities.

legislative houses. Opponents also say the system gives lobbyists a chance to assert their influence over a few legislators, giving the minority the opportunity to rule the majority.

Another group of opponents contend the proposal will further violate the separation of powers principal. The Michigan constitution specifies that the powers of government are divided into three branches: legislative, executive, and judicial. No person exercising powers of one branch shall exercise powers properly belonging to another branch except as expressly provided in this constitution. The Michigan constitution currently allows limited legislative role in the rules process by allowing the existence of an interim joint committee of the legislature.

If this interim committee suspends administrative agency rules the suspensions last no longer than the end of the next legislative session. Proposal A would amend the constitution to allow for the uninterrupted authority of a legislative committee.

national American Red Cross and the local Chapters. It does not come from Federal, or State or Local tax monies. It has to come from free contributions from the American people.

Each Red Cross Chapter has a quota of dollars it is obligated to contribute to the national organization to provide its funds. American Red Cross does not have a direct national fundraising campaign, it shares in the local fundraising of each Chapter.

In the 1984 fiscal year, Crawford County Chapter's national quota was $1229 and we were the first Chapter in Michigan to send our full share to the National organization as we have been for the last ten years.

Our quota for the 1985 fiscal year is a little more - $1352, and with the continued support of the Good Neighbors of Red Cross in Crawford County we hope to again be the first to send our fair share to National.

If all the 3000 Chapters of Red Cross do not do their share then National would not have the millions and millions of dollars needed to do the huge Disaster Relief operations required.

When the tornado struck in Frederic in 1974 this Chapter was just being reorganized. There was less than $800 in the bank. When we arrived at Frederic just before noon that fateful Saturday morning to meet the Volunteer Disaster Relief worker sent up from Saginaw to help issue orders for food, clothing and housing she told us to issue the orders on the local merchants of the victim's choice and to have the bills sent to our Chapter.

We explained our financial situation. She said: "Don't worry Red Cross will have a few thousand dollars deposited in your account the first thing Monday morning and they will send whatever additional money is needed to cover our orders."

They did. The total cost of the Frederic relief operation was in excess of $5000 and it was all paid by funds granted to this Chapter to meet the bills. That is why we, in this Chapter, feel it is so important to send our fair share to National as soon as possible.

Hopefully, there will never be another Disaster in Crawford County like the tornado at Frederic, but if it does happen, we think everybody would want National Red Cross to be financially able to do their job!

I hope that some way, some how, I have convinced some of you that Crawford County does need the vital humanitarian services of Red Cross; and that if those services are to be continued, WE, the people of Crawford County, must contribute enough money to pay for those services.

Please, Help Us Help You! Send a check today to Crawford County Chapter/American Red Cross, RR 2, Box 2515, Grayling, MI 49738.

Vikings Maul Boyne 38 - 8 Before Parent's Night Crowd

TOUCHDOWN RUN — Jeff Branch hands off Rod Patterson who goes straight through a hole opened by Todd Whitecher, Ron Wyman, Riley McNamara, Pete Huss, and Scott Schwartz to reach the end zone. (Chuck Kolb Photo)

Eight different Vikings took part in the scoring parade last Friday before a Parents Night crowd as Grayling bowled over Boyne City 38-8.

Jon Nicholas led the parade as he scored first on a one-yard run in the second quarter. Nicholas added two points on a conversion run. Jeff Branch threw a 45-yard pass to Rodney Patterson to set up a seven-yard touchdown run by Nicholas. Branch then connected with Burns for the two points to make it 16-0 at half.

In the third quarter, Branch threw 19 yards to Tom Miller and 29 yards to Brad Naghtin for a pair of touchdowns. Bob Gelinski ran in one of the extra-point tries to give Grayling a 30-0 lead.

After a 34-yard pass from Branch to Nicholas, Patterson bulled across from two yards out for another touchdown. A Branch to Mick Lovely pass for two points ended the scoring.

Nicholas finished the night after three quarters with more than 100 yards rushing. Patterson, back in action after sitting out the loss to St. Ignace because of a leg injury, led the team in tackles with 13.

Other leading tacklers on defense were Kevin McDonough, Mike Wakeley, and Lance Davis. Chad Swander, Branch, and Burns each picked off an interception.

Coming off the bench to contribute to the victory were Jack Clark, Barry Armstrong, Scott Trudeau, Lacey Stephan, Scott Wyskiel, and Darryl Jones.

Head coach Bill Klinger said Grayling moved the ball well all night on offense and said his offensive line of Ron Wyman, Scott Schwartz, Riley McNamara, Pete Huss, Todd Whitecher, Lovely, Burns, and Naghtin blocked well.

The kick-off team also kept Boyne in the hole as Don Brooks booted two kick-offs into the end zone.

Grayling travels to Charlevoix Friday looking to improve their record to 5-3.

The Grayling J.V. squad also ran over Boyne winning 32-6 to even their record at 3-1.

"The team is aiming to win their last four games in a row," said coach Fred Wolcott, who shares coaching duties with Charles Spencer. "They're a young squad and we told them by mid-season they'll start doing all right."

Todd Klinger scored on a one-yard quarterback sneak in the first quarter to start Grayling's scoring. In the second quarter, Tom Shively broke a 65-yard run for a touchdown. Jason McEvers added both extra points.

With two minutes to go in the first half, Shively again broke a long run, this time scoring from 55 yards away.

In the 3rd quarter, Jeff Wolcott raced 60 yards on a screen pass from Klinger to score. Wolcott added an 11-yard run later to finish the scoring for Grayling.

Wolcott said the entire offensive line blocked well especially Bubba Nielson at right guard, who led the way on three of the touchdown runs.

Girls Wallop Petoskey 60-25, Lead League with 8-0 Record

The Grayling Green Machine chewed up another opponent last Thursday devouring Petoskey here 60-25.

Viking center Kris Laudenslager again led the scoring attack with 18 points. Michelle Barber hit for 13 points and Audra Small added 12 points as Grayling rolled to a 11-1 season mark.

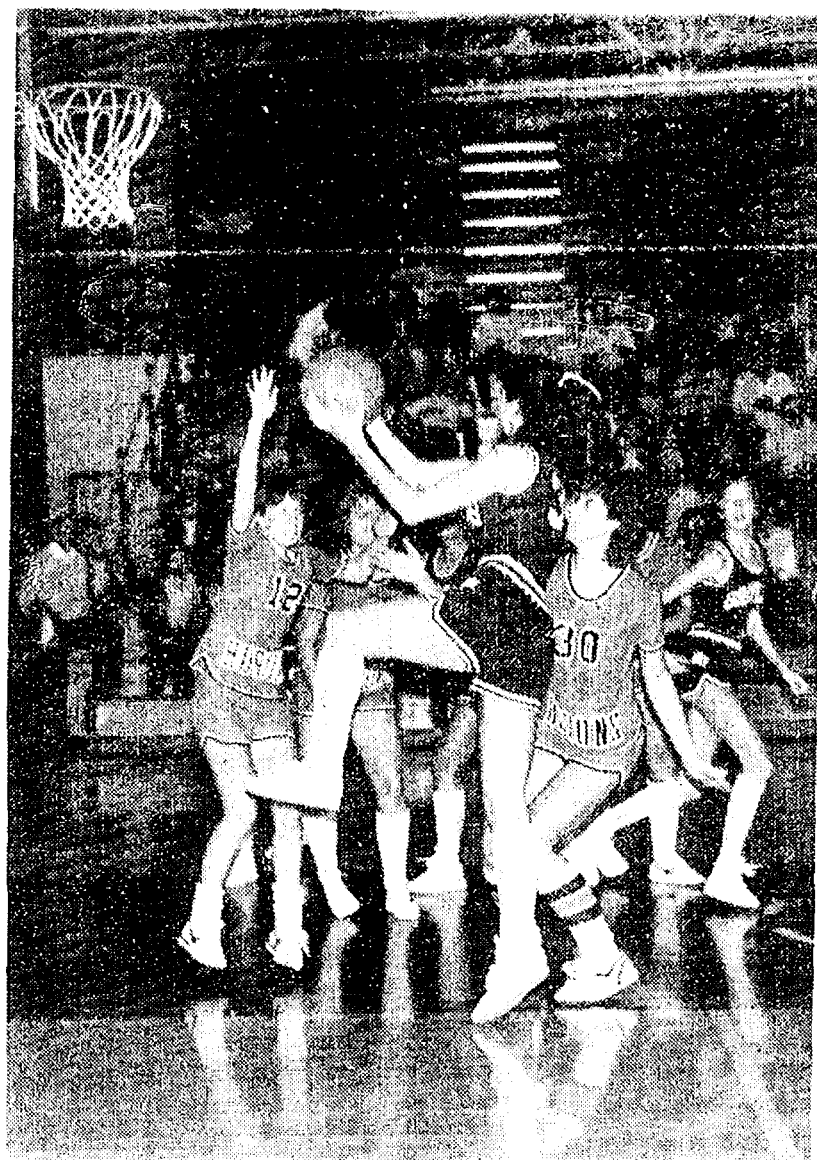

Grayling leads the Michigan Huron Shores Conference with an 8-0 mark but face five road trips in the remaining six league games. Charlevoix is chasing Grayling with a 6-2 record, Cheboygan is 5-3, Rogers City 4-3, and Gaylord is 4-4.

Head coach Tom Mills said with the number of good teams in the conference this year the winner of the league could have as many as three or four losses. He'd like his club to win the title by a wide margin but knows Grayling has to travel to the gyms of the four other contenders in the second half of play.

"Every team we play will be fired up for the chance to knock off the top team," he said.

Grayling had a breather against Petoskey. The Vikings led 17-6 after one period and led by 15 at half-time. A 12-2 scoring edge in the three quarter iced the game. Scoring behind Laudenslager, Barber, and Small were Erin Jones with 5, Dawn Phelps 4, Shawn Denton 2, Heidi Derenzy 2, Kim Springer 2, and Michelle Moore 2.

"We moved the ball well and had a good inside passing game," said Mills. Grayling notched a big victory in their drive to a league title with a 43-42 squeaker over Rogers City at home.

Rogers had won four straight league games after dropping two early in the year. "They're physical and strong. Their aggressive defense gave us some problems," said Mills.

Laudenslager again led the way with 17 points. Key steals by Jones in the last two minutes helped preserve the win.

Mills also credited team defense for saving the win in the last sixteen seconds. Rogers had the ball out of bounds with 16 seconds left and decided to play for the last shot. Rogers couldn't get a last shot off over the tough Grayling defense.

"The girls played tenacious defense, and smart defense too without fouling," said Mills.

Adding to Laudenslager's totals were Jones with 8, Moore with 6, Barber and Derenzy with 4 each, Denton with 2, and Phelps with 2.

Grayling held a one point lead after the first quarter 8-7 and the half 20-19. Going in to the decisive frame, Grayling led 33-28.

The Vikings traveled to Boyne Tuesday and then face challenger Cheboygan away on Thursday. Next Tuesday they travel to Gaylord.

The J.V. squad won their third straight game against Petoskey with a 38-28 victory. Jenni Branch led scorers with 10 points, Richelle Trudeau added 8, and Dana Thayer had 7.

Last Tuesday Grayling beat Rogers City 61-27. Thayer hit for 16, Kelly Hudson 13, and Jennifer Ojala 9.

J.V. coach Dan Ullery said his team's defense has really improved helping carry the girls to their third win in a row.

Meeting called to order by Mayor Thompson at 7:30 p.m.

From M.M.L. re: Legislative Bulletin.
Old Business.
The City Manager presented Change Order No. 2 to the 1984 Street Construction Contract to reflect the "As Built Adjustments". The change order increased the total contract by $517.69 bringing the adjusted amount to $210,144.54. He recommended approval.
Motion by Golnick, supported by Sabin that Change Order No. 2 to the contract with Gilliland Construction Co. be approved, in the amount of $517.69. Ayes: 5, Nays: 0, Absent: 0, motion carried.
The City Manager presented the final estimate from Gilliland Construction Co. for the street work which has been completed. The final estimate is for $62,986.79 and he recommended approval for payment.
Motion by Sabin, supported by Golnick that Estimate No. 3 (final) from Gilliland Const. Co. be approved for payment in the amount of $62,986.79. Ayes: 5, Nays: 0, Absent: 0, motion carried.
He also presented the final engineering invoice from Richards & Associates, Engineers for the completed work related to the 1984 Street Construction. The invoice is in the amount of $2,766.79 bringing total engineering cost to $30,926.62 for this project.
Motion by Sloan, supported by Sabin that the engineering invoice from Richards & Associates be approved for payment in the amount of $2,766.79. Ayes: 5, Nays: 0, Absent: 0, motion carried.
Mr. Sabin asked several questions about the financial statements. Mr. Sabin stated that in his opinion, if we cannot place Christmas decorations throughout the city, we should not put them up at all since a large number of people pay taxes but only the downtown area benefits from the decorations. Mr. Golnick did not agree and suggested trying to do something in the south BL area. Mr. Morford will look into the matter as soon as possible. Ms. Latuszek noted that, in view of the budget cuts which were necessary this year, she would not be opposed to not placing the Christmas decorations up this year. Mr. Thompson stated that when the budget cuts were made consideration should have been taken on this matter at the time. Several Councilpersons noted that they had been under the impression that funds had remained in the budget for new Christmas decorations.
New Business.
Mr. Paul Lerg appeared before Council to explain the proposed Middle School site plan and asked for Councils suggestions. As proposed the Middle School would be built at the present football field. Mr. Lerg detailed the proposed plans for Council's information. Council asked numerous questions about the proposal.
Mr. Morford showed Council the proposed expansion plans for the Cobble Creek Apartment Complex. He asked Council several questions pertinent to the proposed plans. Mr. Thompson stated that in his opinion, if the 300 feet of street were to be put in at city specifications, he could see no problem with allowing Cobble Creek to pave a portion of Knight Street. This was the consensus of Council.
Discussion took place regarding the Crawford County Transit Authority. Mr. Morford noted that the airport projected deficit will cost the city approximately $4,000. for their share. He also noted that some extra money for capital improvements at the airport would be available from revenue from Dial-A-Ride Office Cost Sharing and from private donations. The Transit Authority has earmarked the extra revenue for office and waiting room renovations and for snow plowing equipment. Council concurred with the plans.
The City Manager presented a Resolution honoring Robert Cinciala on having completed ten (10) years service with the City of Grayling.
Motion by Golnick, supported by Sloan that,
WHEREAS, on September 15, 1984 Robert Cinciala did complete ten (10) years of employment with the City of Grayling and,

SPECIAL REPORT

Congressman Don Albosta

Tenth District, Michigan

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 10th DISTRICT

Dear Friends:

I strongly believe campaigns should be conducted in an ethical and positive way. As in the past, I have tried in this election to let you know where I stand on the important issues facing the country. Besides returning to Michigan every weekend, I have appeared at many campaign forums throughout the 10th District.

Unfortunately, my opponent Bill Schuette has chosen to take the opposite path. While saying repeatedly that he was conducting a "high road" campaign, Schuette has grossly distorted and at times outright lied about my record. In fact, just last week Schuette was forced to pull one of his false television ads about my record off the air.

I think it is sad and unfortunate that instead of discussing the issues and letting the people decide, my opponent has decided to lie about my record and then spend over $500,000 to spread it around the 10th District. Some people call this a lie and buy strategy, but I call it a sad and disappointing time for the people of the 10th District. It is sad and disappointing that the general public has to be subjected to these types of campaign tactics.

I guess Bill doesn't know the people of Mid Michigan too well because I don't think they will be fooled. That's why I have taken this ad out to set the record straight.

But I need your help. After studying this ad, I hope you will tell your friends and neighbors the truth about my record and explain to them what Bill Schuette is trying to do. As I said in the beginning, mudslinging, distortions and lies should have no place in our election campaigns. You and I know that the choices are too important to let anyone's lies or distortions steal this election.

I am sorry the campaign had to take a negative turn, but I feel it was necessary in order for me to get the facts out about my record. As always, if you have any questions about my record or my campaign, please call me. I would hope this campaign can return back to a positive upbeat tone. I look forward to seeing many of you in the closing days of the 1984 election.

Best Wishes,

Don Albosta
Member of Congress

Don Albosta's Record Is Documented:

BUDGET

Schuette continues to claim Albosta opposes a balanced Federal budget.

- FACT: On October 1, 1982, Don Albosta voted for a balanced budget constitutional amendment, Roll Call No. 386.
- FACT: In 1983, Albosta cosponsored H.J. Res. 428, a balanced budget constitutional amendment.
- FACT: Voted to cut over 350 Billion in Federal spending to achieve a balanced budget.

AGRICULTURE

Schuette says in a TV ad that Albosta missed every vote on the House Agriculture Committee. Schuette has been forced to pull the false TV ad off the air. WHY? Because...

- FACT: Don Albosta has over a 95% attendance and voting record on the full Agriculture Committee.
- FACT: Albosta also has a 100% voting record on the 3 Agriculture Subcommittees he was a member of.

Albosta's Record is documented by the official Minutes Of The Business Meetings and Hearings of the House Agriculture Committee.

The 10th District has a right to know the truth. Don Albosta has been honest with the 10th District and his record proves it

TAXES

Schuette accuses Albosta of voting for higher taxes.

- FACT: Albosta voted for the 1981 Tax Cut.
- FACT: Albosta opposed the 1982 Tax Bill which increased taxes by $98 Billion.
- FACT: Albosta opposed the 1984 Tax Bill (H.R. 4170) which raised taxes an additional $50 Billion.

DEBATEGATE INVESTIGATION

Schuette falsely accuses Albosta of trying to smear the President with his Subcommittee investigation into the 1980 campaign.

- FACT: Top aides to President Reagan praised Albosta for his efforts to conduct a fair and proper investigation.

"I trust you will note the established record of those Presidential campaigns which I ran. This record, I trust you will agree, demonstrates that I share your concern for assuring proper conduct in the management of electoral campaigns."

WHITE HOUSE CHIEF OF STAFF, JAMES BAKER
JUNE 22, 1983

"As the President has stated, it is his desire to get to the bottom of allegations about the unauthorized transfer of Carter White House or campaign materials to members of his campaign."

COUNSEL TO THE PRESIDENT, FRED FIELDING

REELECT CONGRESSMAN DON ALBOSTA

CHURCH DIRECTORY

The changing of the seasons reminds us of the changes that constantly occur in our own lives. With the advent of Winter, it reminds us that we cannot hold on to "time." We must give up one season for the next. Vacations are over. School and work remind us that we are one year older. We must prepare for the days ahead.

Church worship and fellowship also helps us experience and accept the changes in our lives. As we share in the joys and sorrows of marriage, baptism and funerals we are reminded of the "seasonal changes" in our individual lives.

The church can give us the support we need to enter each new period with confidence and hope. Worship and attend the church or synagogue of your choice this week.

RECLAIMER GAS FURNACES

THE RECUPERATIVE GAS HEATING SYSTEM FOR NATURAL AND PROPANE GAS

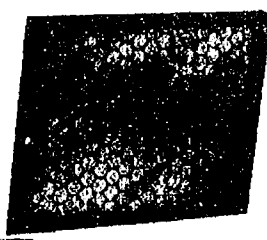

When your thermostat tells the Recuperative Heating System to start up, the gas turns on and is ignited by a cost-saving and energy-saving electronic spark igniter.

The heated combustion air goes up through aluminized steel heat exchangers, where it warms the air going to the rooms in your home. It then exits the heat exchangers at a temperature of 400°F-550°F. At this point, any ordinary furnace sends the combustion air up your chimney - wasting lots of extra heat and extra dollars.

Your Recuperative Heating System wrings out that extra heat! A power vent fan pulls the combustion air through an extra step - down through another heat exchanger - a special patented stainless-steel counterflow recuperative cell. This captures and saves more of the heat that's available, and the final exit temperature is as low as 150°F.

HYDRO-PULSE[™] by HYDROTHERM[™]

Cuts your heating bills up to 35% or more.

- No pilot light. That's a gas saver right there.
- No burners. There is no open flame.
- No chimney is required. Exhaust gas temperatures are cool enough to exhaust through a plastic pipe.
- Reduces infiltration of outside air. Combustion air is drawn from outdoors, not heated air from within the home.
- Uses less gas. The Hydro-Pulse boiler is over 90% seasonally efficient.

Unique principles of operation.

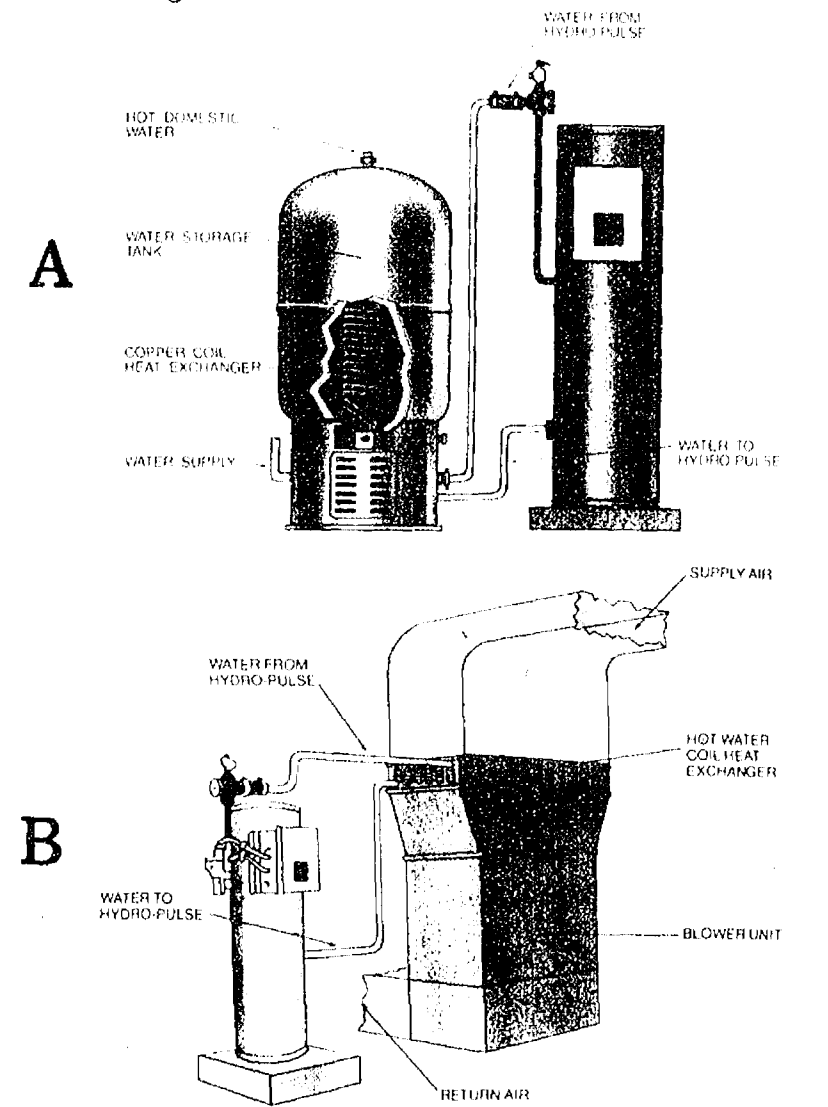

1. A mixture of gas and air is ignited in the combustion chamber, much like an internal combustion engine.
2. Hot gases from the combustion chamber are forced downward, where they heat the water.
3. As the hot gases condense, they give off even more heat to the surrounding water.

Many people think that the savings gained from the "Hydro-Pulse" boiler can only be enjoyed by those installing new heating systems, or with existing hot water heating systems.

But the "Hydro-Pulse" has been very successful cutting fuel costs for hot water in motels, restaurants, campgrounds and homes using an indirect fired water heater as shown in Fig. A.

And the "Hydro-Pulse" is well suited as an add-on to forced air heating systems with a coil type heat exchanger shown in Fig. B.

We have a working model and several operating installations for your inspection.

Installed only by Certified Hydro-Pulse Heating Contractors.
